Halloween got destroyed

As you all know, Halloween is a holiday that is celebrated on October 31st. People decorate their houses and in the evening they dress up in costumes and walk around the neighborhood to trick or treat. Children love trick-or-treating as they get candy and lots of chocolate.

Just like all the other kids, Peter loved Halloween very much, but last Halloween night everything changed. He was singing Halloween songs all day long carving pumpkins with his mum. When it got dark he had put his costume and went out, his friends were already waiting for him. As they were walking Sara asked - Why don't we go at the village? People there are so kind they will give us more sweets. – she explained.

Everyone agreed but Peter knew that he wasn't supposed to go there because his mom would be worried if he didn't came home at the expected time. After some time they all decided to walk there, so Peter didn't have much choice and he went with them. When they got to the village they saw some old people dressed in very scary costumes. As they knocked on the first door one man opened. He was dressed in a skeleton costume and he was very scary. Peter was terrified and he couldn't control himself; he started breathing heavily and started running towards his home.

He ran into many more scary people but he tried to ignore them.

When he got home he just hugged his mom and at that moment he started getting calm.

Fortunately, his mum was happy to see him back home so she wasn't angry about what he had done.

Do you think that it is a good idea to go to places that you don't know? You should never listen to your friends if you know your parents would worry about you. You have to make your own wise decisions. Did you see what could have happened to me because of more candy?

Melani Ilievska VI/4